Personal summary

I am a compassionate and committed Mental Health Support Worker with over 4 years of fervent enthusiasm for supporting individuals facing mental health challenges. My extensive experience, including certification in Prevention and Management of Violence and Aggression (PMVA), allows me to confidently handle complex situations while maintaining the safety, dignity, and well-being of individuals in my care. I embody the 6Cs, providing compassionate, person-centred care by treating each individual with kindness and understanding. As a certified PMVA expert I am committed to continuous learning, I communicate clearly with service users, families, and the team, ensuring everyone is heard, I proactively adapt to individual needs and deliver high quality and safe care. This I achieve by remaining calm under pressure, ensuring tailored interventions while continuously expanding my knowledge of best practices in mental health care. I am eager to bring my skills and passion to this organisation as one whose interest aligns with the vision of NHS, while positively impacting patient's lives in a recovery-focused environment.

Work experience

Healthcare Assistant

CareWell Clinic and Maternity Home Feb. 2021 – 2023

- Attending physical ward routines with the physician, monitoring patient behaviour closely to determine health changes, and reporting concerns immediately hence was able to avert 6 likely fatal episodes.

- Commended for focusing on companionship and emotional support which led to reuniting more than three clients with family members via peaceful dialogue and reconnection, this promoted fast recovery time of clients
- Supporting Registered nurses with their duties by checking, sterilizing, and setting up equipment, serving meals, cleaning, and changing sheets, hence I was able to buy them more free hours.
- Achieved improved mental capacity and independence within the shortest time frame in about 75% of my clients via engagement in online games and puzzles (using their mobile phones), introducing fun, interactive, and physically stimulating activities within the organisation's care plans.
- Instrumental in organising and participating in therapeutic and recreational activities for patients, contributing to overall well-being and aiding in recovery journey
- Received positive feedback from nursing supervisors for consistently demonstrating a strong work ethic and maintaining a high standard of patient care across different units.

Support Worker

Karu General Hospital (Psychiatry Unit) 2016 - 2020

- I provided one-on-one support for residents experiencing anxiety, dementia, depression, or acute mental health crises.
- I was able to maintain stronger relationship with patients, build trust via active listening, taking consistent and reliable actions showing respect, empathy, and confidentiality.
- I engaged in conducting thorough risk assessments, using PMVA skills for de-escalation, following safeguarding procedures hence was able to reduce risk of harm, create safer care environment and improved well-being.
- I provided person-centred care to individuals with mental health conditions, provided emotional support during crises, offered emotional reassurance and hence was able to address the unique needs of the patients
- Worked closely with multidisciplinary teams (nurses, therapists, social workers) to develop and implement individual care plans.
